GPRRA welcomes new appointment of Professor Michael Kidd

General Practice Registrars Australia (GPRRA) welcomes the announcement from the Minister for Health, Greg Hunt, of the appointment of Professor Michael Kidd AM as Principal Medical Advisor to the Department of Health.

“GPRRA warmly congratulates Professor Kidd on his appointment as Principal Medical Advisor to the Commonwealth Department of Health and Professor of Primary Care Reform at The Australian National University,” said GPRRA President Dr Sama Balasubramanian.

“Professor Kidd is respected globally as an authority on primary healthcare. This is an important appointment as Professor Kidd’s expertise will greatly assist with improving and strengthening the primary healthcare system,” said Dr Balasubramanian.

“GPRRA looks forward to continuing to work with Professor Kidd and the Department of Health to support our future general practitioners so they are able to provide high quality primary healthcare to the benefit of all Australians,” says GPRRA CEO Dr Andrew Gosbell.

Professor Kidd is the long-time patron of both General Practice Registrars Australia (GPRRA) and the General Practice Students Network (GPSN).
